

Prof S C Bhattacharya (28 February 1944 – 29 January 2016)

Late Prof S C Bhattacharya, who served as Adjunct Professor of our Institute since 2007, left body on last Friday night at about 9 pm (29.1.2016) for his heavenly abode. He succumbed to heart attack before which was in full conscience at his residence. Professor S.C. Bhattacharya obtained his Ph.D. degree from the University of Cambridge in 1976. For 23 years, he was a faculty member of the Asian Institute of Technology (AIT), a postgraduate international institute located at Bangkok. May the departed soul of Prof S C Bhattacharya rest in Eternal Peace. On behalf of everyone at IISWBM, our deepest sympathy goes out to his family and friends. He will be forever remembered as a great teacher, dedicated well-wisher for the students' community, an exceptional human being and a friend.
