On 20th September'19, a seminar was conducted by the Placement Committee where Mr. AchalJaiswal, Regional Head (East) at NSE of India Pvt. Ltd. and Dipendra Chowdhury, Deputy Manager, Business Development (East) at NSE of India Pvt. Ltd addressed the students on the topic: Knowing the stock exchange – An Introduction for the Management Students. The seminar was conducted successfully and turned out to be quite interactive between the guests and the students. The seminar mainly focused on the self-development of students, especially those who expect to venture into investment, securities and bond management as a career. The speaker introduced the National Stock Exchange not only as a stock exchange, rather as a platform of information about markets of securities, equities, bonds, commodities, currency, etc. He also illustrated NSE as an ever-developing school of education, information technology and research and development.

The speaker emphasized upon students, to be job-ready by developing attributes in aptitude and attitude. He further suggested students staying updated by modern courses, like knowledge of programming language (Python, R3, etc). Onlookers discovered that there are some students who are interested in investment and trading as career prospects, for whom the speaker suggested to venture into certification courses of NSE Academy Certification in Financial Markets (NCFM). Students also came to know that NCFM provides packages of Smart Trading Simulator to educational institutions like IISWBM. Lastly, the speaker guided the listeners to always focus on self-development more than the economy and prepare rigorously for the future.
